

Past Project of Interest

Stray Cat Industrial Services (Stray Cat) successfully installed a protective coating system over thousands of square feet concrete in Alberta's Oil Sands. This multi-layer system includes polyurea, which creates superior adhesion and generates a monolithic seamless membrane. Polyurea is able to withstand thermal cycling throughout seasonal changes, as it stretches up to 750% and retains memory with high tensile strength. A third-party Certified NACE Inspector remained on-site the length of the project, while Stray Cat followed the installation process consisting of: sandblasting to remove any loose materials and release agents, primer, epoxy filler to rid any bug holes in concrete, and lastly, application of polyurea membrane – Inspector passed project with no deficiencies. Down-time was minimal during the application process, as polyurea gel time is almost instant. Polyurea meets Green Chemistry Standards and is USDA and Agriculture Canada approved.

STRAYCAT

INDUSTRIAL SERVICES Ltd

Protective coatings for all types of Substrates (including green concrete), coatings for vapor barrier, fire retardant coatings, internal pipe coatings, tank lining, abrasion resistant coatings, hi-chem coatings, potable water approved coatings, non-skid coatings

Primary and secondary containment

Heat insulating ceramic coatings

Spray polyurethane foam

Safety Programs include SECOR, ISNetwork, and ComplyWorks – Proven track record with no lost-time injuries

Wide variety of equipment capable of handling any size project

Mobile equipment able to work anywhere including remote sites

Manhole and pipe rehabilitation and lining

State-of-the-art technology and advanced coating methods

Erosion control

Wax tape anti corrosion wrap for pipe, well heads, valves, etc.

High temperature coatings (up to 1200F)
